

DID YOU KNOW?

PARIS bonjour ♥

Paris is nicknamed the "City of Light" because it was one of the first cities in the world to use streetlights.

The River Seine runs through the middle of Paris and has 37 bridges just inside the city.

Paris has more dogs than children, and many cafés even offer water bowls for pups!

The Paris Métro (subway) has over 300 stations, and some are filled with art and music.

There are more than 1,800 bakeries in Paris—no wonder Piper smells bread everywhere!

The city is divided into 20 neighborhoods, called arrondissements, that spiral out like a snail shell.

The world's first public zoo opened in Paris in 1793 during the French Revolution.

Paris has its own Statue of Liberty—a smaller version that faces the one in New York!

There's an underground city of tunnels and catacombs beneath Paris, holding the bones of millions.

The oldest café in Paris, Café Procope, opened in 1686 and once served famous thinkers like Voltaire and Benjamin Franklin.
